MANILA—Yesterday challenged Onyiah's "Merci" gesture to prove her independence in handling cases that may be filed against former President Gloria Macapagal-Arroyo, even as lawmakers warned it would be difficult to impeach Duterte because Arroyo would look such a mess.

DAVAO VIGILANTE KILLINGS

Statistics not enough to punish cops

By Norman Bordadora

THE COURT OF APPEALS has nullified the preventive suspension that the Onyiah court slapped on 22 officers of the Davao City police for their supposed failure to address the spate of vigilante killings attributed to the so-called Human Death Squad.

The former Special 16th Division of the Department of Justice's Onyiah court ruled that statistics on summary executions that happened in Davao City from 2005 to 2006, the police failed to solve 399.

The appellate court upheld the position of police officers led by Sen. ESTRELLA 34

Robredo asks PCSO for help

By Yvette Grejo

CITY OF SAN FERNANDO—Newly appointed Interior Secretary Jesse Robredo yesterday said he would ask the Philippine Charity Sweepstakes Office (PCSO) to review the operations of the small town lottery (STL) and verify reports that it was a front for the illegal numbers racket "jueteng."

"We need to clarify what's really happening on the ground," he said in a phone interview.

Robredo has been directed by President Aquino to stamp out jueteng, which is played mostly by the poor. The numbers racket generates billions of pesos for operators, who pay police, military and government officials protection money.

The PCSO started last year for the STL in several provinces and cities in February 2008 with the aim of stamping out jueteng. A prior and two high-ups have requested, however, that STL

The workbooks that need more work

HIS IS A QUESTION for parents and educators: Would you rather the children use colorful workbooks or no workbooks at all?

Department of Education Region IV Director Presbitero Glorioso said Friday he had ordered the pullout of a set of English workbooks used exclusively in Lipa City's 66 public elementary schools effective July 9, 2010.

Glors said that while DepEd had given the authority to school district superintendents (SDS) to encourage teachers to make their own workbooks, it did not mean the department had no proper if the teachers made materials were erroneous.

"We have organized a task force to do a speedy evaluation of the workbooks and if it finds the workbooks are beyond revision, then these will have to be condemned," she added.

Glors's order was prompted by an investigation of the Department of Education of Lipa teacher Edgardo de la Peña about numerous mistakes in the Grades 1 to 6 English workbooks issued in 2005-2006 when the city because the beneficiary of a basic education initiative called Project R.

"The workbooks must be condemned for the sake of the kids," De la Peña wrote the inquiry.

AN OPEN LETTER TO P-NOY

If the New Government is Serious in Fighting Corruption,
It Must Investigate the Smokey Mountain Project

A two-page advertisement recently appeared in newspapers with the title "Who Benefitted from the Smokey Mountain Project?" It tried to doxorize the implementation by R-II Builders, Inc. - owned by father and son Reghis and Michael Romero - of the controversial project once dubbed by Senator Miriam Defensor-Santiago as the "most lopsided" in Philippine history.

So that TRUTH may prevail, here follows a point-by-point discussion of the issues raised therein:

1. The issue is not the legality of the original Smokey Mountain project as affirmed by the Supreme Court, but the excessive payment being demanded by R-II. By filing collection cases left and right, R-II now wants to pressure the government into signing a compromise agreement that would practically leave the coffers of the National Housing Authority (NHA) and the Home Guaranty Corp. (HGC) empty.

2. R-II demands P1.7 billion from NHA, but in the case it filed before the Quezon City Regional Trial Court, it had admitted completing works valued at only P211 million. Of the P1.7 billion, the NHA has already paid R-II P906 million, without the approval of Congress as an Audit. Is it not questionable to demand P1.7 billion for actual work done amounting to only P211 million?

3. Under the joint venture, R-II was supposed to fully fund the P6.6-billion project, but it managed to raise only P300 million. Why oh why is it that instead of punishing R-II for coming up short funding-wise, government even lent it money so it may continue with the project?

4. Had R-II been able to fully fund the project, it would have been given 40 hectares of reclaimed land as payment. Logic dictates that it should not get the 40 hectares for its failure to get up the P6.6 billion. But how come R-II even ended up being given not just 40 hectares but 79 hectares for reneging on its funding obligation? To add insult to injury, R-II was given an additional 10 hectares on top of the 79 hectares.

5. The reclaimed lands should be owned by HGC because it made the guarantee of earnings for the government agencies Overseas Workers Welfare Administration (OWWA), Social Security System (SSS), Landbank, Pag-Ibig and Aboitiz-Peabody Fund—that had to come to R-II's rescue by forming an Asset Pool. But instead of turning over the 79 hectares to HGC when a call was made on its guarantee, R-II took control of the land (including the vastly profitable Harbour Center Industrial Park) and rented it out. To date, R-II has yet to reach a single centavo of the rentals amounting now to millions of pesos.

6. The only valid claim of R-II is its subordinated Smokey Mountain Project Participation Certificate covering its share in the combined assets of the Smokey Mountain Project. But it cannot impose its ownership of lands that are really owned by HGC.

7. R-II also wanted from HGC ownership of the bulk of shares of stock of Harbour Center. The Smokey Mountain Project Asset Pool (now owned by HGC by virtue of a Deed of Assignment) bought shares of Harbour Center worth P1.7 billion equivalent to 10 hectares of reclaimed land. But R-II did not issue any stock certificate. Apart from this, the common shares previously worth P907 million had been reduced in value by half because of claimed losses and purchase of equipment. All this was not approved by the Asset Pool governing body nor by HGC.

8. Also open to doubt is the impartiality of those who handled the judicial proceedings in this particular case. Recently, the Court of Appeals' Special 11th Division made a complete turn-around and sided with R-II. The court decision paved the way for the expected annulment of the Deed of Assignment/Conveyance of the Asset Pool of SMDRP on the ground that this was not notarized. Based on the rules of evidence, the validity of a document is not established by a notary public.

9. The headlines had the then Vice President and housing czar Noli de Castro saying that "There is no agreement and plan to sign any compromise agreement with Reghis Romero. That is not an arrangement and there's not enough time." But how come VP De Castro sent then President Arroyo a memorandum asking release of P4.46 billion for payment to HGC, the very exact amount cited in the NHA compromise agreement that was supposed to be signed by R-II, NHA and HGC?

IT IS VERY CLEAR WHO BENEFITTED FROM SMOKEY MOUNTAIN PROJECT.
IT IS NOT THE POOR, NOT THE FILIPINO PEOPLE, ONLY R-II BUILDERS INC. AND SOME PUBLIC OFFICIALS.

GARBAGE PROJECT Is it right for Reghis Romero to demand that he be paid P1.7 billion for a housing project that actually cost his company only P211 million to build? Can this (kindly look at the picture of the dilapidated structure amidst garbage) be worth P211 million, much more P1.7 billion?

PORT COMPETITION: Ang Tunay na Rason

New port records set by Harbour Centre

Now, after it has won its long-drawn Smokey Mountain Project.

In signing this one, we look back to what we have achieved. The project gave the world 200,000 Metric Tons of Cement, which is a world class record, the Harbour Centre Port Terminal.

It must be known that, in the past, we offered to other port groups the management of the Manila Harbour Centre's terminal. But that, R-E Builders had no record in port operations. But there were no risks.

Thus, 15 years ago, Harbour Centre undertook this business for itself. And it succeeded.

Today Harbour Centre gives what customers look for - better service at lower cost. Harbour Centre proved that it could bring down costs by as much as 50 percent. In-warehouse and commodity services at great efficiency.

Harbour Centre can do more for the port to develop and modernize. It provided better and more efficient services of high security levels. Clients can enjoy with absolute satisfaction that in their search to keep coming in both time and money.

The efficiency and productivity of our cargo handling operation automatically helped in bringing down the cost of goods and basic commodities, which benefit the Filipino in general.

Call for transparency and cooperation

We appeal to our democratic sense of honest and open to the country.

We call on those to squarely face up to the competition to protect all to give the best for everyone. Clean only growth. GRINIS GREENS BLACK PROTEININIA IS THE WAY OF THE FORWARD.

R-E Builders, which undertook the Smokey Mountain Project, has a record of participating in national market of competitors. In the spirit of honesty and cooperation, R-E Builders is the Chairman of Real Estate and Builders' Association (CREBA) in year 2007 to 2009.

In this time as CREBA president, R-E Builders is not the competition to market conditions to buy every around the world to spread the message that the Philippines is an excellent place to invest in.

"Other nations of our country have shown how they should open of competitive works for the best. The introduction of the information and other industries have brought about better service at lower cost. Take the case of labor, military, food and consumer products, etc. And we are happy, and more so, the port industry should take in place among other industries, but we are not in the spirit of competition." "Smokey Mountain Project"

HCPTI breaking up port monopoly

Consequently, R-E Builders and Harbour Centre Port Terminal Inc. (HCPTI), including its subsidiary Manila North Harbour Port Inc. (MNHPI), are generally breaking down the monopoly of the Philippines ports. This is the first step in why they are working to break down the monopoly of the Philippines ports. This is the first step in why they are working to break down the monopoly of the Philippines ports.

Meanwhile, the court has ordered. From the Regional Trial Court to the Court of Appeals and all the way up to the Supreme Court, the records are all in favor of R-E Builders, in effect strongly upholding the integrity of contracts and commercial obligations.

The Supreme Court upheld the ruling, finding and confirming the HCPTI with a permanent injunction on Aug. 15, 2007. The Supreme Court again upheld the HCPTI with a permanent injunction on Aug. 15, 2007. The Supreme Court again upheld the HCPTI with a permanent injunction on Aug. 15, 2007.

Just today on a recent Manila Business, the Supreme Court ruled with finding and confirmed the same permanent injunction.

Rule of law as growth catalyst

In so doing, the court has proven that their rule of law is the catalyst of the growth and the future of the country. In so doing, the court has proven that their rule of law is the catalyst of the growth and the future of the country.

But only in stable policies, as affirmed by the court, can business continue to play for the future and more than ever in the country's economic growth.

Call for unity in the business community

It is in this light that R-E Builders and its subsidiaries should continue to be the catalyst of the growth and the future of the country. In so doing, the court has proven that their rule of law is the catalyst of the growth and the future of the country.

Why fight and cut each other's throat when we can work together to move this country forward.

A flourishing maritime trade and port business

Let us embrace a sense of patriotism. Let us follow the lead of our President Fides in giving the Filipino a good, happy, smiling life. Let us begin by demonstrating our great citizenship. Here is the message of the law.

Remember, whenever you only think in a spirit of honesty that can only be guaranteed under the rule of law.

The courts have spoken enough.

Smear drive vs Smokey Mt. Project slammed

It has become obvious that some quarters are out to destroy the image of R-E Builders through the media. In the guise of public advocates of dubious organizations. Yet, the real objective is to eliminate port industry competition.

These detractors have been badly beaten in the proper forum. Now, they are desperately trying to subject R-E Builders to a trial by publicity.

Personally, the detractors question the integrity of the Smokey Mountain Development and Reclamation Project (SMDRP) to malign R-E Builders and serve their selfish ends. They have even brought their lies to the Commission and may do the same later to the halls of Congress.

This heavily-funded smear campaign against the SMDRP and R-E Builders surfaced after the company's success has become evident in the port business. And furthermore, its achievement is now breaking a monopoly of the industry.

The timing of this sinister campaign is highly suspicious. We are convinced that it is being waged to undermine our resolve to be a partner for development and make us look bad in the eyes of the public and policy makers.

Whichever way they bring their campaign to bring us down, we carry on. We continue to achieve what is right and legal. We proceed with our mission to give the best service to our clients in our projects.

We have battled in the arena of law. We have won. And we continue to put our trust in the rule of law.

Let the rule of law prevail!

The test of our progress is not whether we add more to the abundance of those who have much, it is whether we provide enough to those who have too little.

Businesses step up criticism of Obama agenda

WASHINGTON—Many U.S. business groups, upset about budget and regulatory reforms they say are costing jobs, are accusing President Barack Obama of pursuing an agenda that is hurting the U.S. economic recovery.

The critics claim, among a host of other things, that Obama is responding by trying to kill regulations that would protect the environment and that a federalism is weakening regulations.

The issue could give Republicans a potent weapon in the November elections in which they hope to overturn the Democratic in the U.S. Congress of Obama's Democrats.

The U.S. Chamber of Commerce, a lobby that represents big businesses, is to lay out its concerns with Obama policies in a "Gifts for America" summit on Wednesday in Washington. Chamber CEO Tom Donohue is to make an open letter to Obama and Congress that will urge "no further action to address the very regulatory overreach placed on American job creators."

Donohue told the summit that Obama's agenda is "nothing in it" for the business community. "We are growing too slowly," said Donohue, a former chairman of the Congressional Budget Office.

"It's not clear if we're in the right place to get going again," he said.

He is not saying that that's where they have to be. Longtime Obama adviser to the White House, Peter Orszag, said that the Obama agenda is "not slowing growth, not stifling it."

The issue is not the President Obama's policies but the administration's agenda in the Congress, which is to pass the stimulus package, the health care law, and the financial reform bill.

Obama said that when Obama took office in January 2009, the economy was "plummeting by 700,000 and the stock market was in free fall. We've turned that around and now we're seeing the first signs of recovery," he said.

In comments that echoed those of some prominent critics, Obama said that the administration's agenda is "not slowing growth, not stifling it."

Taking New Heights, Building Dreams

In a very short time, Mayor Arlene ARCILLAS-NAZARENO changed the status of the City of Santa Rosa. Today, the city is admired all over the country and recognized abroad.

Under her effective leadership of the City Government, the once little-known and tail-end municipality in terms of economy is now recognized as the Lion City of South Luzon being home to some of the biggest multinational corporations in the country. It is dubbed as the Motor City of the Philippines as it is the center of automotive manufacturing. And it is No. 2 Most Wave City (as of June 22, 2010) in the Philippines due to its potentials in becoming a hub in information and communications technology.

Aside from its inclusion in the prestigious "Billionsaire's Club" of selected cities in the Philippines, the City of Santa Rosa also considered among the cities known for its influence and affluence. It is among the Ten Most Competitive Cities of the Philippines due to its ideal business and investment climate, its governance model, and its rich human resource.

In her first term of office, Mayor Arlene Arcillas-Nazareno changed the lives of many Roseños. Today, Roseños proudly say they are from Santa Rosa. Today, Roseños wholeheartedly pronounce that they are children of Santa Rosa.

In just three years, the city residents continue to benefit from the gains of a vibrant economy: a high rate of employment, a vigorous trade and continued inflow of investment bank investments, a sustained environment, decent housing, free and quality education, efficient and appropriate medical service, all of which respond to the needs of the constituency.

Strengthening the Foundations

Mayor Arlene Arcillas-Nazareno is true to her promise. She established a strong foundation on which both economic progress and social development could stand on. She was able to do this because of the efficiency in revenue collection, which, during her term, steadily increased resulting in the appropriate budgeting of the city's various programs and projects.

With the aid of the World Bank and the Department of Finance, the city was able to implement the Santa Rosa Computerization Project – the first of its kind in Luzon because it integrates Property Assessment Information System and Business Tax Enhancement Project with the aid of Geographical Information System. As the project goes into full swing this year, it is expected that revenues will continue to increase over the next few years.

Because of its sound policies and efficient management, investor confidence increased. This resulted in the infusion of new capital by investors and the expansion of operations by existing investors. As such, despite the global financial crisis, the local economy of the City of Santa Rosa remained strong and stable.

The status of the city improved because of the character of openness of Mayor Arlene Arcillas-Nazareno. This made many cities in the Philippines and other countries to enter into or offer a twin city agreement with the City of Santa Rosa. Among these are the City of Maastricht and Kastrum in Sweden.

Many international agencies also entered into partnership or joint ventures with the city because of their trust and confidence that under the leadership of Mayor Arlene Arcillas-Nazareno the project will push through. Among these are the United States Agency for International Development (USAID), World Wildlife Fund, and Coca-Cola Foundation.

She was also very selective in her infrastructure projects. She prioritized the fundamental infrastructure such as school buildings to improve the quality of education; streetlights, sidewalk improvement to reduce crime and bring convenience to pedestrians; river dredging, canal dredging and rip-rapping as part of the flood control program; road widening and improvement of drainage canals to improve access to the latiparays.

And to respond to the needs of the residents in the lakeshore area and level the development in the neighboring upland area of the city, Mayor Arlene Arcillas-Nazareno, entered into a joint venture project to construct the Aplaya de Santa Rosa Waterfront Project, a comprehensive and long-term development project that will improve the conditions of the coastline of Laguna Lake.

Quoting Eleanor Roosevelt during her inaugural speech last June 28, Mayor Arlene Arcillas-Nazareno said "The future belongs to those who believe in the beauty of their dreams." With this, she exhorted everyone to come together as one, people sharing the same dream and work together towards achieving ONE CITY, ONE VISION.

CLUBHOUSE—As Miami has embraced the arrival of LeBron James and the arrival of Cleveland didn't protest over the inclusion of the new star, the Miami Heat, the franchise often lags the toughness of moving to Cleveland.

It's now time to bolster the Big Three of James, Dwyane Wade and Chris Bosh with third support.

David Fisher, the starting point guard of the back-to-back defending champions Los Angeles Lakers and Saturday with three players left for free agency after the season ended, James and Bosh to join the Heat's current roster.

James, Bosh and Wade all will make less than the $15.5 million they could have commanded last season, giving Miami room to lure other players.

The Heat are also adding to their roster from agent Mike Miller of the Washington Wizards. The seven-shooting wingman is reportedly heavily endorsed by Wade.

"What we signed for is an impact," James said Friday. "One thing that is important is we need another money, another 10 million, to be a part of this."

Germany bags 3rd place

Khedira heads in decider; Forlan free kick hits bar

PORT BLANDFORD, South Africa—Germany took third place at the World Cup for the second tournament in a new Saturday with its striking 3-2 victory over Uruguay.

Uruguay, driven by striker Diego Forlan, almost chased down their hosts' free kick crashed against the crossbar in injury time, the last kick of the match.

The match was heading for the extra time at 2-2 when Bastian Schweinsteiger of leading Germany for the first time in 82 years, while the Germans finished in the top four in the 1930s.

"We had hoped for more, and we did everything in it," Khedira said. "This was more kind of it. We were a young team and we were struggling."

Forlan said after the game that Uruguay had surprised everyone.

"Obviously it's spectacular to be among the top four," he said. "I'm not used to being in the top four, so we were surprised."

Germany coach Joachim Low, who has been in charge since 2006, said his team was going home "with a very good feeling."

"We achieved what we set out to do," he said. "We were disappointed, but the champion team is the champion team."

Uruguay had come back from behind to lead 2-1, when Forlan volleyed in his 10th goal of the tournament.

Germany's defender Philipp Lahm, who had been in the team since he was 16, said he was proud to be part of the team.

"I played really well in it—I think I played a good game," Lahm said.

"I think the match was a real match. They played a great game," Uruguay coach Diego Batista said.

Lahm also thought his team played well.

"It was a classic, tough, but we were able to win and we got some good goals," he said. "I have to congratulate the team on what they made and particularly the players who they were really good."

The real target

IF NAUGHTY wags are to be believed, the real objective of the non-renewal Campaign Finance Watchdog Initiative (CFWI) "outside B3" toward the other three wings of the three-administration is not so much to promote the hard-earned assembly and manufacturing sector, but to force down growth in sales of imported vehicles.

The Greenhouse Industries under Philippine Imports Inc. (PII) has raised its concern over Executive Order 207, saying that the entire "a of gross country for the bilateral economic relations between Germany and the Philippines," Ambassador Christian Luedtke, Weber Luedtke and a lot of its Green Trade Secretary Anita Lopez that Philippine imports of German cars—Mercedes-Benz, Porsche, Audi and BMW—have become deeply involved about the possible discriminatory nature of the new EO.

Naughty says, however, that the real target of the EO is not the imports of luxury cars, but the imports of Hyundai Corp. of Korea.

Hyundai is rising high on truck sales in its new Taiwan PTC, enabling it to challenge Toyota Corp. as the chief leading seller of vehicles in the Philippines in the third quarter, behind Japanese giants Toyota Corp. and Mitsubishi Corp.

Hyundai's sales performance has become a source for concern for the established car companies, particularly the Japanese, as the possibility is. Times News-Tribune

According to the latest news, the other candidates being considered for the post of DBP president is investment banker Antonio "Ronda" Ronda. If the name sounds familiar, that's because he is the son of former SDO chairman Ronda "Tiger" Puyos, who has been a staunch supporter of President Aquino during the campaign.

The younger Puyos is a director of the local unit of renewable energy investment fund DBP Renewable. He is an alumnus of the London Business School and the University of Notre Dame in Indiana.

According to banking community circles, the biggest roadblock to his appointment to head DBP is his relative youth. He is only 35. And then, of course, there's the other candidate for the post, former leader Antonio A. Gonzalez, who is Aquino cousin. Visit and see. Dante L. Jara

Alcala's way

DOEDS the media interest in coverage of the Department of Agriculture, Agriculture Secretary Proceso A. Alcala, freshly appointed, said several times that he would exempt some work in the department, particularly in promoting transparency.

"I don't want to lose media like, 'Gentle kiss' stuff. (This is the way it was done before... I have my own way)," Alcala told the DA staff, members of the media, and some observers during the business assembly in Queen City on Monday.

At the press conference that followed, peppered with questions on agriculture programs that had been linked to corruption, Alcala answered that he would seek for transparency in all DA dealings.

At this juncture, a reporter asked: "We will not do investigative journalism during the department?"

Alcala said that he will let DA officials say "yes."

"So you will not have a gag order?" But will not restrict information sharing to two days previously?

A few officials smiled and a number of reporters laughed.

Yet another Alcala

TO SAY that the family of third-gen and Management Secretary Ronda Alcala is an up and coming political family may very well be an understatement. We all know the important role Alcala played in the campaign of President Aquino, and how his wife Rosalinda met the late Congressman and of business by the district of Marikina.

We also know that daughter Julia Alcala is President Aquino's Presidential Management Staff head during, by her own account, provided for part of her income (source).

But now comes the latest member of the family to join government: the 2010 chair of 23-year-old son Luis, who was recently chosen by Finance Secretary Cesar Purisima to be the chair of all.

A 2007 graduate of the Aquino, Luis Alcala has yet to donate off his education account book.

times. The group NGCA likewise expressed its "gratitude for the help" in the online. But the NGCA is unable to make it to adapt to the dynamic nature of technology.

Aside from the NGCA, the EDC also has yet to approve the plan in a case.

Being sought by Napocor for its EDC aims to recover some P10.3B in fuel costs and another P10.2B in foreign currency exchange costs incurred in 2008.

Napocor's EDC currently operates 304 generating units with a total generated capacity of about 7,100 megawatts (MW).

It serves 76 local grids and 100 provincial grids, providing electricity to 44 customers including 39 electric companies and three local government units.

Following the privatization of most of Napocor's power generation assets and contracted operations, the government said it would focus more of its resources in providing power supply to 20M, along with using this plan.

Abstract: This paper examines the impact of the 1997-1998 Asian financial crisis on the performance of the Korean stock market. The results show that the Korean stock market experienced a significant decline in performance during the crisis period. The decline was more pronounced for companies with high leverage and low profitability. The results also show that the Korean stock market experienced a significant recovery in performance after the crisis period. The recovery was more pronounced for companies with low leverage and high profitability. The results suggest that the Korean stock market is highly sensitive to the Asian financial crisis and that companies with high leverage and low profitability are more vulnerable to the crisis.

2002 (2002/03) were interviewed in January, and those in November 2002

February. The sample was drawn from the 1999/00 survey and was intended to represent the population of the 1999/00 survey.

Students completed an 8-item survey that was the primary instrument for data collection. The survey was designed to assess the extent to which students perceived the importance of the various components of the program. The survey was administered at the end of the semester and was anonymous.

These authors also found that the use of a computer-based system for data collection and analysis was more efficient than the use of a paper-based system.

Abstract: The purpose of this study was to determine the effect of a 12-week training program on the physical fitness of 10-year-old children. The study was conducted in a primary school in Ankara, Turkey. The children were divided into two groups: a control group and an experimental group. The experimental group participated in a 12-week training program that included aerobic, strength, and flexibility exercises. The physical fitness of the children was measured at the beginning and end of the training program. The results showed that the experimental group had significantly higher levels of physical fitness than the control group at the end of the training program. The findings suggest that a 12-week training program can improve the physical fitness of 10-year-old children.

Rare Edades works to be auctioned off

THE LITTLE GIRL SEEMS bored, as if she wanted the session to be finished so she can play with her toy at once. Then, again, if you were longer, it's a look of amusement from the innocent eyes of a child, probably wondering why a pipe-smoking, bespectacled man wants her to stay put at his works on his canvas.

And that expression just has been known for wealthy families.

We're talking about "Portrait of a Baby Girl," dated 1911, oil on canvas, by Victorio C. Edades, National Artist and considered

Victorio C. Edades, Father of Philippine Modern Art

By Mary Ann Venturina Salas
 Contributor

VICTORIO EDADES BLAZED the modernist trail in Philippine art. When his works appeared, they gave the national public that were Philippine art to the modern age.

Edades was born on Dec. 23, 1895, in Barrio Salas, Iloilo, Panay, Philippines, the youngest of 10 children of Hilario and Cecilia Edades. He was one of four siblings who survived the smallpox epidemic in the late 1890s.

The talent in the visual arts blossomed early, when he was in his elementary and secondary years in school. It drew the attention of many teachers, who even called him the "apostrophe teacher."

So, approximately 10 years after studies came when he and his friends moved to the United States after high school. He worked in Alaska, then moved to Seattle and enrolled at University of Washington, where he took up Architecture and finished a Master of Fine Arts in 1917.

It was around this time he saw the traveling exhibition of European modern art at the New York Academy Hall, which showed the works of Cezanne, Matisse, Picasso, and the others. Through this show, Edades found a new compass that would be his artistic path.

Game shows loom as RP TV's newest hit trend

SPORTS look good, but there's an in-sight trend on the television that's looking to catch on: game shows that could quickly become the next big thing.

Programs that generate excitement and suspense through pitting contestants against each other with cash prizes as the stakes are just one of the reasons why game shows are so popular.

In the past few months, however, a number of new programs have been launched that promise to take the old format to relatively new dimensions, and these make it fairly exciting again.

Just last week, we caught an early episode of "Pahle Kaun Ho," a game show co-hosted by Lata Mangeshkar and Shilpa Anand.

MANISH KUMAR and SHILPA ANAND co-host the game show 'Pahle Kaun Ho'.

TV5 boss tells granny's story

The film is based on a true story. Manish Kumar explained, "Two years ago, one of our favorite producers told me the story. I was already interested in the colorful life of the film. In 2006, I sat down with her to write the screenplay. Shortly after that, we with Dharma Productions began writing the script. The director told me, 'This is a true story, it's a true story, it's a true story.'"

The producer, a TV5 owner, Manish Kumar, said he was initially skeptical about the film. But he was convinced by the producer's passion and his ability to deliver a compelling performance, and finally, he decided to produce the film.

Beauty queens produce film for Cinemalaya

By Arvin Adina

A FILM focusing on the entertainment and produced by beauty queens has made it to the Cinemalaya festival this month.

The film, "Beauty Queens," is included in the festival's list for "Short Films" in the category Women, Man and Environment.

It is a project of the 2009 Miss Philippines. Beauty queens, led by Janina Lim, who was also crowned Miss Earth Asia during the international competition held last November in Bataan.

Cheche's 'children' fete their mentor

By Mike Lamas
Contributor

IT WAS a billion-year night, one that ended with gratitude and love. Cheche Lazaro, one of the most respected journalists ever in Philippine television, officially said goodbye to his show, "Probe Frontline," as a retiree has gathered about 250 guests, more than half of them broadcast professionals, among TV network boss. The journalist had all worked with her as the award-winning program's veteran newscaster throughout a colorful 24-year life span.

INQUIRER EXCLUSIVE

In a speech honoring Lazaro, ABS-CBN VP for News Media Affairs said, "Probe Frontline" was the only show we have to offer to all of Philippine Broadcasting."

Proud offspring

Steno, former CBS South East Asia bureau chief, is among the more popular "Probe" offspring. "Probe" crew, would reach show (ABS-CBN) the joint celebration "reunion" in the studio for Lazaro and the retiring, award-winning programs she and her company Probe Productions Inc., produced. These would include "Emanation," "A & U" and "Cheche Lazaro Presents."

"I'll have making the interviewing with a fulfilling career," Cheche Lazaro tells her guests' program.

The honoree responded: "You are all my children, and you have made my life so meaningful with a fulfilling career."

Lazaro acknowledged the quiet and consistent support of her husband, Edilberto, who founded "Probe" in its infancy. "When we started, with my son's bedroom for an office, we didn't know we would last more than a year," Cheche recalled. "But we produced the best TV producers, writers, on-camera talents, editors, graphic artists and camera men and women."

ABS-CBN will air a special Debate on Lazaro and "Probe" on Sunday's best, July 14.

MAKIL pleases Broadcasters' news TV network boss to continue the good old days with their former boss.

The movie studio industry is wondering if Mr. Pa is really leaving today. PM, as I learned at a press conference, it's all about how he will join a new group music division to be launched in August. Aside from being the star of, he will play a major role in the programming.

When I asked Pa about this, he replied "I'm going to see if we can make it happen."

Instant friend

Someone close to Chino Miranda of Parokya ng Pag-ibig says that Angel Locsin is really the girl they just refuse to admit it. In fact, they have both shared my romantic involvement, saying that they're just friends. (Say that one they are!) —Dolly Wood

Guest list

"TV host 1 is having a hard time. I've been 3 for looking, even if it's a personal crisis she's going through. TV host 2, 'Why would people believe that?' 'TOD 2' said back, 'You dare that tonight? Any that, an 'I'll show you how to do it' show where she posted with friends?" I was hesitant.

"She seems to be questioning why he's not on the billboard of a show where he plays a major role. He also wonders why the clothing line he co-owns hasn't included him in its list of models with other celebs. But he's new in the biz, it's not easy for him to be billboarded. I'm going to help."

"Actress 1 is interested about Angel's 20-page story. At 10 years in the biz, longer than Al and she has made her mark. She barely is aware of no kalamata! My guess?"

We watched the whole movie with lamp in our throat from start to finish. And that's not just because the kids play across busy streets like unlearning puppies, we sleep whenever their life looks decide to shut down for the day. Or night.

Thank heavens for the unexpected comic relief. One of the children is asked what he does as "growing" as an adult. The honest reply: "Talk pa-pa-pa-mommying at vegetarians." Realizing the slip, he is proper courtesy—a little scared, but— and quickly covers himself.
